

List of Abortion Clinics in Canada

This is a complete list of clinics across Canada, including dedicated abortion clinics or women's health clinics at hospitals. Otherwise, hospitals are not generally listed unless they are the only facility providing abortions in that province or territory (however, full info is provided for New Brunswick and Saskatchewan). Around 90-100 hospitals across Canada provide abortions, counting CLSCs in Quebec (centre local de services communautaires). In addition, some family doctors and primary care clinics prescribe medical abortions; contact the Action Canada hotline below for information.

Most clinics should provide both surgical and medical abortions, even if the listing below does not mention medical abortion. Medical abortions are done using Mifegymiso (a drug combination of mifepristone and misoprostol). An ultrasound may be required, especially for medical abortions.

Gestational limits are indicated where known and are usually dated from LMP (last menstrual period). Gestational age (GA) refers to the current age of the embryo/fetus, while LMP is simply the time lapsed since the start of last menstrual period – GA may be up to 2 weeks less than LMP.

Funding: All services are fully funded unless otherwise specified. However, medical abortions are funded only for some patient groups in Saskatchewan, Manitoba, PEI, Newfoundland & Labrador, and the three Territories. These groups include hospital patients including at hospital-based abortion clinics, people on social assistance, First Nations, and military personnel.
